Students in the News

Amherst Native Jessica Beliveau Spending Spring Break Helping Those In Need

EASTON, MA -Amherst native Jessica Beliveau will be traveling to Peru the week of March 9th to take part in Stonehill College's annual H.O.P.E. Alternative Spring Break Program.

A member of the Class of 2014, Beliveau will be volunteering with other Stonehill students for the Yancana Huasy Project, which is a Congregation of Holy Cross missionary outreach program. It attends to children and their families who live with physical and mental challenges, including Downs' Syndrome and other distressing conditions.

Students who participate in the H.O.P.E. program form community with one another during the five months leading up to their trip. They learn about the culture, history and issues of social injustice in the communities they are destined to visit and serve.

A Season to Celebrate Girl Power...

(with plenty of roles for boys too!)

Andy's Summer Playhouse has served youth from southern New Hampshire for over forty years. But the 2014 season will be unique. Artistic Director DJ Potter has made a commitment to providing more opportunities for girls and young women.

"This season will present stories from history and imagination about women adventurers and artists; there will be roles for girls and boys, and more professional women directors than we have had in recent past. We are also excited to bring back Andy's touring production to serve more kids and reach more communities."

Join Andy's for auditions on April 16 in Amherst or May 3 in Peterborough.
